

Five Fluffy Little Robins

Five Fluffy Little Robins,
Looked up at the sky.
It was time to leave the nest,
And find out how to fly.

Four flitter-fluttered off,
But one was full of fear.
He said, "It's far too high,
I think I'll stay right here!"

"Come on!", said the others,
Flying freely in the sun.
So their little brother tried it
And found that it was fun.
