

Who's The Boss

There a time for love and a time for life so take a chance and face the wind. Open road and road that hidden A friend you like around the bend. There were times. I lost a dream or two. Found the trace and at the end was you. There a face you take and a ride you take. The choice is up to you my friend Now you know to take the track To a brand new life, a brand new life, a brand new life around the bend.
